The First Race a Surprise for the Talent Results of the Other Events-The

The first race was a disappointing one for the talyat. Correction was thought to be in a soft spot, and the price against to be in a soft spot, and the prace against her was pounded to two to five. She went to pieces, after leading for five furlongs, and Sirocco, passing her, won easily by four lengths. Correction maneasily by four lengths.

Reckon made her own pace in the second race, winning in a drive by a head from third race was the Larchmont stakes, for two-year-olds. Nahma led the bunch to the last sixteenth, when St. Julien, under the whip, got up and scored the stakes by a neck. Nahma was sec-ord, a head in front of Figaro.

Seven three-year-olds started for the Pocantico handleap. Prince George led to the top of the hill, where Midnight took command and held the lead to the last furlong. Then Prince George again got in front, and won by a length. St. Michael beat Companion, three parts of Michael beat Comanche three parts of a length for the place.

Don Alonzo and Rainbow were the only starters in the fifth race. The Don made the pace to suit himself, and, shak-ing Rainbow off in the stretch, won easily by three lengths.

The other races brought out good fields, and furnished interesting sport.

NEWS OF THE NAVY.

The Higginson Investigation-Admiral Walker's Place.

WASHINGTON, June 14.-The Bureau of Yards and Docks, of the Navy Department, has advertised for proposals for the construction of a protective wall at League Island, Pa., for which there is an appropriation of $20,000. Proposals have also been called for for dredging the basin at the New York navy-yard, by removing 100,000 cubic yards of material, so as to afford accommodations for the increasing number of naval vessels undergoing repairs. The appropriation for this purpose is $20,000.

The wooden ship-of-war, Essex, which recently returned to this country, after several years' service at the South Atlantin station, and is now lying at the Norfolk navy-yard, has been ordered out of commission. She has made her last cruise as a man-of-war, but will still figure on the navy list, and will be of service in the future, for she is to be service in the inture, for such as a training ship for gunnery practice by the naval apprentices. She will be overhauled and repaired at the Norfolk navy-yard, and her old battery of muzzle-loaders will give place to an

NO SUCH OFFICE AS DEPUTY CORO. NER OF THE DISTRICT,

And in Deference to This Decision of the Supreme Court, Dr. Schneffer Adjourned Proceedings Until To-Day.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.-The supreme court of the District this morning dismissed, on two grounds, Colonel Ainsworth's petition for a mandamus to compel the deputy coroner to allow him to be represented at the inquest on the victims of the Ford's Theatre disaster. First, holding that the deputy corener is not a legal officer. This invalidates the inquest as far as held. Second, that the right of a person to be present at the inquest in person or by counsel is discretionary with the oroner, and, therefore, not a subject for man-

Chief Justice Bingham, in his decision, said that an examination of the law only established what he had never doubted, that the coroner in holding an inquest sat as a court, and was vested with the power of a judicial officer. It is well proven that in the absence of official could not delegate his authority In the course of his opinion he took In the course of his opinion he took occasion to lecture the excitel cierks who thronged the court-room on the necessity of maintaining decorum. He told them the coroner's court was not to be considered as a town meeting. How-to be considered as a town hatering, it was ever deplorable the circumstances, it was the duty of all good citizens to pay re-spect to the law. Whatever the findings of the coroner's court might be, they were not final, and any wrong done were not lined, and any wrong done could be righted by proper legal methods hereafter. He admonished them to let the further proceedings be conducted in a quiet, orderly way by the coroner himself, and to repress their feelings. This admonition had an obviously could This admonition had an obviously good

In deference to the decision of the supreme court of the District of Colum-bia, that there is no such officer of the District of Columbia as deputy coroner, District of Columbia as deputy coroner, Dr. Schaeffer, who has been conducting the inquest at Willard Hall in that supposed capacity, immediately adjourned the proceedings until to-morrow at it o'clock. The curious point now develops that there is no body that has been viewed by a legally constituted coroner's jury, unless one of the injured victims now lingering should die. It may be necessary to exhume the bodies.

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia decided this afternoon to order a new inquest over the victims of the Ford's Theatre disaster, and directed District-Attorney Thomas to assist Coroner Patterson in conducting it. In view of Dr. Patterson's ill health the con ing a new coroner, but on Dr. Patterson's statement that he could conduct the inruest if Mr. Thomas was allowed assist him, the inquest was ordered. It was ascertained that the bodies of Messrs. Loftus and Fagan, two of the victims, were still in the vault at Glen-wood cemetery, and the officers of the emetery were directed not to inter them without permission of the coroner. Dr. Patterson decided to resummon the old jury-Messrs. Warner, Hanvey, Ayre, Kellogg, Schnelder and Sibley. One of the bodies at Glenwood will be viewed

Just how far the acts of Deputy Coroner Schaeffer, prior to Justice Bingham's decision, will be invalidated, is rather a question. It is, however, be lieved that nothing serious will result This is due to a fortunate combination of circumstances under which few, if any, persons have been committed to jail by him as deputy coroner, who escaped subsequent indictment by the grand jury.

Nowhere can there be found any authority for the appointment of a deputy coroner, and such official is not named was made by the last Congress for $600 is not available until July ist. It is claimed that attorneys have casually called attention to the want of authority law four years after such deputy entered upon the performance of his duties. Major Davis, judge advocate of the army court of inquiry, appointed to in-vestigate the Tenth-street disaster, is now engaged in preparing the framework of the evidence to be submitted to the court, and is ascertaining the names and knowledge of the different witnesses who may be able to throw any light on the case. His idea is to summon only such witnesses as are necessary to a clear understanding of the facts in the case and avoid the taking of a mass of and avoid the taking of a mass of merely cumulative testimony.

Under the ruling made by Chief Justice Bingham, of the District Supreme Court this morning, there is no such officer as a deputy coroner, clothed with judicial power, and the application for a writ of mandamus asked for by Colonel Ainsworth, chief of the Record and Pension Bureau of the War Department, was dismissed on that ground but the court missed on that ground, but the court loth to dismiss the apilication on a tech-nicality, entered somewhat into the mer-its of the case. He said that the unfortunate calamity which had caused these proceedings to be reviewed was one that had excited the greatest public attention, and the question raised by the applica-tion for a mandamus was one of unusual importance. The coroner himself, who holding an inquest, was vested with all the authority of a judge to summon witnesses, punish for contempt and dis-orderly conduct He had the power to exclude any person whose presence he became convinced was an obstruction to the inquiry for which his court was ordered. If it was apparent to him that the presence of any person prevented the production of the full testimony that might otherwise be produced, his powers were sufficient for him to say that, for a time, at least while certain with ase were testifying, such persons should re-tire from the court. Whether he should do so or not was a matter for his discre-tion and judgment, and his alone, and whether the circumstances detailed in Alnaworth's petition were sufficient to justify him in exercising his authority was for the coroner to decide and not for Mandamus, said the court, does not lie against discretionary power, but is used to compel the performance of a specific duty. Under the facts set out in the peat the bar no mandamus can be issued.

Commit Burglary. NORFOLK, VA., June 14.-Special.-At

3:30 o'clock this morning Thomas H. Farley, a young man from Richmond, a cigarmaker by trade, was perhaps fatally wounded while burglarizing the residence of M. Levy, No. 246 east Main street. He entered the house by a rear window, using a ladder to reach it. Three shots were fired at him by the inmates, one of them entering the spine and taking a downward course. The shots and cries of the inmates attracted four policemen, and the man was taken to the police station, where he gave the name of Wil-liams. In his pockets was a watch, Highest of all in Leavening Power .- Latest U. S. Gov't Report.
